

The IT STAR Newsletter

Editor

Plamen Nedkov is Chief Executive of IT STAR and Editor of the Newsletter. He was Head of Department for International Organizations of the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences, Executive Director of IFSDH (Sofia Office), and Executive Director of IFIP.

Honorary Advisory Board

Ana Pont Sanjuan is full professor of Computer Architecture at the Universitat Politècnica de València (UPV), Spain. Between 1998 and 2004 she was the head of the Computer Science High School at the UPV. Her research interest includes web and internet architecture. Ana is the Spanish representative to IFIP TC6.

Angel Alvarez is professor of computer science at the Technical University of Madrid and Associate Vice-Rector for International Relations. He was Spanish representative to IFIP.

Ashley Goldsworthy holds leadership positions in many commercial and non-profit ventures - the Australian Inst. of Technology, the Business/Higher Education Round Table, Triton Foundation, Smart Employment Solutions. He was President of the Australian Computer Society and of IFIP.

Augusto Casaca is professor at the Instituto Superior Tecnico and Leader of the Research Group on Network Architecture at Inesc-Id, Lisbon, Portugal. Augusto is a Senior Member of IEEE and past Chairman of IFIP TC6 Communications Systems.

Blagovest Sendov is member of BAS. He was ambassador of Bulgaria to Japan, rector of Sofia University, president of the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences and speaker of the Bulgarian Parliament. He was president of IFIP.

Cene Bavec is professor of Management and Information Technology at the University of Primorska, Slovenia. He served in various senior positions in the Slovenian Government, including State Secretary (Minister) for Technology. He was previously with IBM and managed the IBM university relations in Central Europe, Asia and the Middle East.

Diana Šimić is professor at the University of Zagreb, Faculty of Organization and Informatics where she chairs the doctoral study program in Information Sciences. Dr. Šimić is a Vice-president of CITA, member of the Steering Board of the CBS, and member of ACM, ASA, CSA and CSMI. She served as Assistant Minister for Informatics at the Ministry of Science and Technology, and Deputy State Secretary at Office for e-Croatia. In 2007 she was awarded the plaque Informatics of the Croatian Informatics Association for contribution to the development of information society in Croatia.

Dudley Dolan is chair of CEN's WS on Big Data. He is founder and Distinguished Fellow of the Irish Computer Society and Honorary Fellow of the British Computer Society. He was vice-president of CEPIS.

Giorgio Ausiello is professor emeritus at the University of Roma "La Sapienza". He was Chair of IFIP TC1 on Foundations of Computer Science.

Giulio Occhini is honorary president of AICA. He has held leadership positions in the ICT industry and was president of CEPIS and coordinator of IT STAR.

Irena Lasiecka is professor at the University of Virginia. She was Chair of IFIP TC7 on System Modeling and Optimization and is on the International Advisory Board of the Polish Academy of Sciences.

John Vincent Atanasoff II is son of John Vincent Atanasoff (JVA) - named the inventor of the first automatic electronic digital computer. John managed companies, incl. Oxberry, which designed the equipment for Terminator II.

Maria Raffai is professor at the Chair for Information Science of the Szechenyi Istvan University in Győr, Hungary. Her research extends to information engineering methodology and business process re-engineering improvement methods related to the operation research and decision-making. Dr. Raffai served as Vice-President of the John von Neumann Computer Society and as Secretary of IFIP. She is Hungarian IFIP TC 8 representative.

Martin Przewloka is chief digital officer (CDO) responsible for the innovation management of msg systems AG, Munich, Germany. He has more than 20 years of experience in the successful development, launch and scale-up of digital technologies. His special technical and scientific interests lie in the field of digital assistance systems, sensor technologies, smart data and artificial intelligence.

Vladimir Kitov is professor of computer science at the Russian Plekhanov Univ. of Economics. He served as senior manager at DEC, Siemens Nixdorf and Fujitsu. He is permanent member of the Advisory Board, Russian Virtual Computer Museum.

Mengqi Zhou has been with the Chinese Institute of Electronics (CIE) since the 1970s and has held the positions of Director for International Activities, Deputy Secretary General, and Vice Chairman of the International Working Committee of CIE.

Dr. Zhou is one of the founders of the IEEE Beijing Section in the early 1980s and the IEEE China Council in 2006. He has organized many international technical events in China, such as the 16th World Computer Congress, the International Symposium on Signal Processing, the International Conference on Solid-state and IC Technology, the International Conference on ASIC and the International Conference on Microwave and Millimeter Wave Technology.

Ex Officio: Representatives of IT STAR member societies